of votics; and twice it has so affected the left eye as to sonfine me for a month or more to a darkened room.

These attacks have been ascompanied by strong febril symptoms; by stoppage of the head, and, in the first stages, by watery discharges from the mose, subsequently becoming acrid and yellow, and toward the closing of the attack becoming bloody and purulent. I have tried medicines of aimost every kind; external applications to the head, such as assupport, ginger, het bandages, and fermentations of hot vinegar; snuffs of some half a doses kinds, and other external preparations; together with the internal remedies, such as alteratives, eatherlier, and smeties. These have produced no change in the cocurrence or shareder of the disease, and in most eases, with little or no temporary relief, I had some at length to helieve the disease to be practically beyond either sure or material afteriation. Under these circumstances I was led some Sive months ago to make a trial of Dr. Lighthill's treatment. His method, at once, approved itself to my judgment, as simple, philosophical, and likely to be effective. Notwithstanding this disease of such long standing, aggravated by nervous defaility and dyspepts, and constantly induced by the accidents of my professional labor found the treatment reaching the disease as it had supposed impossible. I shrousle the results thus:

a modification and alleviation of its character as I had supposed impossible. I chronicis the results thins:

Although I have been situated several times so that I should formerly have believed a severe at teak of my extarrh toevitable, I have escaped thus far; the symptoms of threatened attack have been very light, and have yielded to the remedies employed by Boetor Lighthill, without need of resource to the old hot formenfations or emeties; and the dissharges from the head have resumed the original and natural condition. I count upon a complete cure. That I have been able, however, to obtain so material a relief is to me a cause of graitude. In that alone I am repaid for whatever the experiment may have cost me. I make this statement transificated, as a mean of seknowieding my obligation to Dr. Lighthill's method of treating extern, and with a view to ald any one who may have suffered from that disease in forming a just opinion of its merits and its probable utility in their own case.

As these Bonds are exempt from municipal or State taxation, their value is increased from one of tax levies in various parts of the sountry.

At the present rate of a exitum on gold they pay ever eight per sent interest in surrency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary avestment.

It is believed that no securities offer so great indusements to lenders as the various descriptions of United States Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties of stock companies or separate sommunities only is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the sountry is solden to secure the payment of both principal and nterest in coin. These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest sapitalist. They can be converted into money at any mement, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

The fast that all duties on imports are payable in specia furnishes a fund for like payment of in-terest on all Government Bonds largely in excess of the wants of the treasury for this purpose.
Instructions to the National Banks seting as Engineers of the United Stakes Army, departed this life on the 20t Instairs, in this sity, in his seventy-sixth year.

General Totten was born August Et, 1788, in New Haven, Connecticut, and graduated at the Military Academy in 1998, from which he was promoted to the Corps of Engineers, and, with a brief interval, from 1808 to 1908, continued in that arm of service, passing bonorably through every grade till he became, in 1838, Chief Engineer of the Army. The Senate, before his death, unanimously contrined his noministion by the President, to be "Major General by brevet, for long, faithful, and eminent services."

General Totten's military career, of more than half a century, has been one of continued usefulness and distinguished services. In 1818 he was called to the field to assume the ardicous and re, sponsible position of Colef Engineer of the Army on the Niagara frontier, where he took a conspicution of the Niagara frontier, where he took a conspicution of the Niagara frontier, where he took a conspicution of the Science, Upper Canada, and repulse of the Eritals finding on the Niagara frontier, where he took a conspicution of the following year in the capture of Fort George, Upper Canada, and repulse of the Eritals finding on Land Conterle. In 1813-18 the best came Chief Engineer of the forces, successively amounted by Generals Willightson, Inard, and George, Upper canana, and repulse of the metilab flottills on Lake Ontarie. In 18th-1t he became Chief Engineer of the forces, successively commanded by Generals Wilkinson, Izard, and Masomb; was in the attack on La Cole Mill Lower Canada, and the battle of Piattaburg. In this brief war General Totten won the respect and admiration of his brother officers, and the marked approbation of the Government, which conferred upon him two brevets for his meritorious and distinguished services. On the return of peace his high professional shillities were easiled into activity on the board of engineers which projected our extended line of lake defences and seasonal fortifications. These works, most of which were planned by himself, are the enduring monuments to his memory. In the war with Mexleo, General Scott summoned his early companionmeans to aid him in the singe of Vera Cruwhere, for his "gallant and meritorious conduct," For the past twenty-six years he has been at it head of the Engineer Department, administeriz-with untiring devotion, spotless integrity, as the National Academy of Sciences, created in 1884 one of the Hardro Commissioners for the cities of New York and Bostos, and a member of many celeratific associations.

Distinguished for urbanity of manner, genia social qualities, and that great moral excellence which adorns the Christian sodiar and gentlemanhe has left behind an exalted regulation worth the emulation of his brother officers, and which his aurylving children may well regard as a price less legacy.
